What do we do?

Storr's team of veteran facility management experts provides outsourced facility management services that make managing your furniture and work space requirements easy. We bring to your organization the knowledge and services needed to keep your facility running smoothly, so you can concentrate on meeting the core business objectives of your company. You can hire us as a full-time member of your department or call us to fill in during peak periods. Either way, our goal is to meet your needs and save you money.

How we do it.

Our staff of 50 full-time professionals work in account-dedicated teams. We focus on process development and measurement of results to maintain high quality service at a reasonable cost. Attention to detail and open communications are the hallmarks of the Storr approach to facility management.

Our own state-of-the-art office and warehouse facilities, supported by industry-leading automation tools for space planning, move management, asset management, design, specification and order management, ensure a result that is second to none.

Why do you need it?

Storr offers our proven ability to reduce your cost of furniture and space management. We serve as a single-source solutions provider and we're easy to use, flexible and responsive. We bring knowledge to your workplace management, not just labor services.

Our goal is to make your priorities our priorities and bring every project to completion on time and within budget. Just one call to Storr is all it takes, whether you need help with a simple task such as fixing a broken lock or expert advice on moving 500 people.
