What do we do?

Storr's installation teams are trained on all the major systems furniture products on the market, with the experience to provide trouble-free installation and/or reconfiguration for projects of all types and sizes. An extensive supplier network gives us access to all the parts and components needed to repair, replace, or reconfigure your office environment, while our veteran professional staff ensures the work is done with minimum disruption to your daily routine.

How we do it.

Effective installation services call for two key elements: knowledgeable, experienced installers and access to a comprehensive and reliable supply of furniture parts and components. At Storr, you'll find both in abundance. Our crews are factory-trained in installation and reconfiguration of systems furniture, with the expertise and resources to take new or refurbished product and integrate it seamlessly with your existing workspace investment.

Why do you need it?

Why do you need it? In today's fast-paced business environment, the ability to respond quickly and efficiently to new workspace requirements is critical to maintaining overall productivity. New growth or corporate consolidation can redefine furniture needs overnight. In such situations, the experts at Storr can help you respond to new workspace demands smoothly and cost-effectively.
