NASHVILLE BRONCS TO ANNOUNCE JAN VAN BREDA KOLFF AS NEW HEAD COACH
Former Vanderbilt and NBA Star to Lead Nashville's New Professional ABA Team

DATE: Thursday, June 12, 2008 from 1-2 p.m.

LOCATION: NovaCopy
15 Lindsley Ave.
Nashville, TN 37210

DETAILS: Official announcement by Broncs owner Scott Lumley. Question and answer for media.

Nashville, TN--The Nashville Broncs are proud to announce the hiring of new head coach Jan van Breda Kolff. Jan van Breda Kolff, is a well known name to basketball fans and Nashvillians having lead the Commodores to a Sweet 16 appearance in 1974 and being named SEC Player of the Year. Upon graduation, van Breda Kolff went on to play nine years in the NBA, seven of those years with New Jersey Nets.

Broncs owner, Scott Lumley believes that van Breda Kolff is a perfect fit for the Broncs and the Nashville Community.

"Jan van Breda Kolff is not only a perfect fit for the Broncs organization, but his hiring is definite proof of our commitment to bring a quality, professional team to the Nashville community," Lumley stated.
